Recent exploration campaigns both on- and offshore East Africa have discovered a tremendous resource, which has propelled the region from being one of possibilities to one with commercial opportunities of significant scale. These discoveries are set to make East Africa a major energy resource player in the 21st Century, yet many challenges remain.

The meeting will bring together experts from industry and academia to present the latest data and research with submissions already received from Anadarko, BG Group, BP, Genel, ION, Total, Tullow, Schlumberger, Halliburton, with numerous Universities, Consultancies and Government Agencies.

In addition to the oral and poster programme, a core exhibition showcasing a variety of East Africa reservoirs will be held in parallel with the technical sessions.
