Title of submission to the Geological Society publication
Clone of QJEGH

Dear Ms Gibbs,

The Geological Society are partnered with Chronos Hub, providing our author licence and Open Access management platform. To sign your licence and choose your publication method please click here <https://geolsoc.chronoshub.io/dynamic.aspx?data=publishingoptions&key=91C380E9-B501-4AEF-90AD-95D08F7FD156&Auth=1NUJn0aljFwJpM8T5KA==&UserId=GEOLSOC-SG&profile=GEOLSOC>. Please note your paper is now on hold until you have chosen your publication route and licence via ChronosHub. Any queries or problems with this link then please contact qjegah@geolsoc.org.uk

Your article has been accepted for publication in the Clone of QJEGH and we will proceed with the files from the latest version. If you have not uploaded high-resolution figure files, please email the Journal Manager asap. Otherwise PDF proofs will be emailed to you in due course.

All co-authors are reminded to confirm their involvement with this paper asap, if they haven't already done so. Your paper will not be published until all the co-authors have confirmed. All co-authors were sent an email when the paper was first submitted (28 Nov 2023); please check your junk folder if you do not remember receiving it. If you have not yet clicked on the link and answered the questions to confirm your involvement, please do so as soon as possible, if you need the email to be re-sent please contact the Journal Manager (qjegah@geolsoc.org.uk) directly.

If you provided your ORCID ID (and authenticated it, check here Your ORCID ID: 0000-0001-9025-4351 is already linked and Authenticated.) as part of this submission, you can opt in to having your ORCID record automatically updated when your article is published. Simply look out for an email from Crossref in your ORCID Inbox requesting permission to access your ORCID record and then grant Crossref permission for the autoupdate. Every time you publish any article with a Crossref member publisher (there are over 7,000) and provide your ORCID ID your ORCID record will be automatically updated without you having to do anything.

See the ORCID site at: <https://support.orcid.org/hc/en-us/articles/360006896394-Auto-updates-time-saving-and-trust-building> for more information.

Accepted Manuscripts

All papers published in Clone of QJEGH will have the accepted version posted online as soon as possible. The accepted manuscript will be the same as the version accepted for publication using the original figures and formatting. In order to make the accepted manuscript available as efficiently as possible, we will post a watermarked PDF version of the original source files. We will use the data provided in the text file to create a cover page. Any supplementary material will be made

A separate email will be sent from ChronosHub. Follow the link in this email to ChronosHub.

Your article will now be sent to the production team. You will receive an email when your proofs are ready to review. Go back to dashboard.

Please note: selected read and publish agreements require article approval from an institutional administrator before the article will progress further.

If logging into ChronosHub direct (not via the link in the ChronosHub email) the article page below indicates action required at various stages:

The screenshot shows the Lyell Collection website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "I'm looking for" and a search icon. Below the search bar, the page title "My Articles" is displayed. A navigation bar contains five tabs: "Drafts 0", "Submitted 0", "Accepted 1", "Published 0", and "Archived 0". The "Accepted 1" tab is selected. The main content area shows a single article entry with the title "Title of submission two to the Geological Society publication". A green checkmark icon indicates "No action required" and "Article in production". A "View article" button is located to the right of the article title. Below the title, there are several metadata boxes:
