Earth Science Week Schools Event

'Rocks and Resources'

Friday 19 October

11:00 - 14:00

The Geological Society,
Burlington House, London

- Dr Matt Loader from the Natural History Museum will be running a schools workshop about rocks and resources.
- The workshop will include an urban geology field trip around Piccadilly and a mineral exploration session where students can learn how geologists search for and extract important minerals.
- Appropriate for A/AS level geology students and geography students with an interest in geology.
- Attendance is free for school groups. Places are limited so we ask that each school group is no more than 10 students.
- Please contact education@geolsoc.org.uk to reserve your place!
