FRIENDS OF THE GEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Web Site: www.geolsoc.org.uk

The Geological Society of London is a registered charity No 210161

Are you interested in the Earth and its history, famous geological sites, modern day debates surrounding energy supply, engineering and climate change – to name but a few topics? Then we invite you to join the oldest geological society in the world and broaden your knowledge through association with us...

The Friends scheme is open to those with an interest in geology at a non-professional level. Our aim is to encourage Earth science enthusiasts to broaden their knowledge of the subject through association with the Geological Society and participation in its activities.

Benefits of the Friends Scheme

- Annual subscription to Geoscientist (11 issues per year)
- Free reference use of the library
- Society e-newsletter and Friends’ newsletter
- Annual event(s) with wine reception, exclusively for Friends - a great chance to socialise with other Earth science enthusiasts
- 40% discount on our Special Publications books series
- Discounts at various retailers
