

i. Martinia multicostata (a brachiopod)

ii. Spirifer oystermouthensis
(a brachiopod)

iii. Zaphrentis

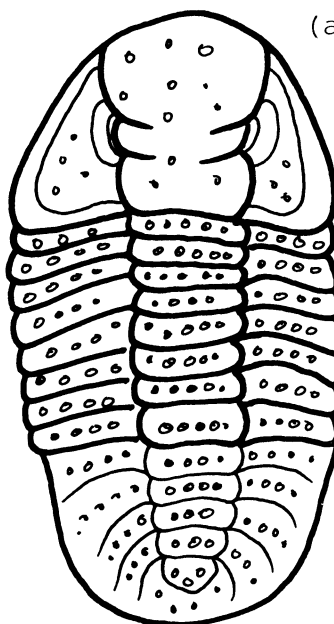

(a rugose coral)

iv. Griffithsides barkeri

(a trilobite)

v. Camarotoechia

(a brachiopod)

Fig. 11. Some fossils to be found in the Carboniferous Limestone of Gower. i-iv may be found at Clement's Quarry, Oystermouth. v is characteristic of the Lower Limestone Shales and may be found at Rhosili (see Tour 5). Scale-bars represent 1 centimetre.